The Market Festival at the Season's Start

Life begins in earnest on Saturday 30 April at 11:00 am! St. Wolfgang, Strobl and St. Gilgen will celebrate the start of the season on Lake Wolfgang with a big market festival. These three towns are linked to one another by boat and the offerings will include culinary and musical delights exclusively from the Salzkammergut. In St. Wolfgang, you can taste regional delicacies in finger food form along the "Schmankerlmeile" from the marketplace to Postplatz. The motto here is small portions, big variety! Quench your thirst best with the Peterbräu anniversary beer, which will be on tap exclusively in 2011. Folk music groups will change locations every two hours and will, of course, also play on-board the boats! Through May 26, special offers such as "3=4", "6=7" and "Blue Monday" entice, enabling you to extend your stay by one night at half price. For more information, see page 5.

Our SPA is expanding: The new Lake Bridge

Would you like more legroom? And nothing but the Lake Wolfgang panorama in front of you...so that we can offer this luxury to still more guests in the future, we have expanded the bathing platform to include two new floating wood platforms connected by our new lake bridge! Hard work has also been done on the holiday flats during the brief time in march when we were closed, and now some flats in the residence on the lake really shine. More about this on page 4!

Let your Soul Float Away

The summer tip from the editorial staff of the RösslNews is actually quite banal: directly on the bathing terrace, you can board an electric boat, where Christa will supply you with an ice-cold bottle of sparkling wine and glasses. You should plan to be underway for at least one hour. The rest will take care of itself. You just need to steer a little now and then. The nicest time for such trips is in the late afternoon on warm (early) summer days. For us, this is a true holiday, the Salzkammergut at its best. The wonderful evening light, the soft lake air, the rippling of the water when you dunk your feet in. This is summer on Lake Wolfgang.

EDITORIAL

Dear Guests,

The clouds of the crisis have cleared away and the sun of economic recovery is shining brightly. Many of us are feeling the new upsurge. Optimism is spreading at just the right time for next year's hotel anniversary "100 years of the Weisses Rössl".

For 300 years, the Peter family has lived in St. Wolfgang, first as beer-brewers and then as hosts and hoteliers. This is a long time, especially with respect to constant social responsibility in a small community. Despite all the rigours of history, one generation after the other has built on the previous generation's achievements and taken on new challenges. Always contemporary, but never modern. It's not the ephemeral annual results that determine the decisions of a long-established family; instead, the long-term perspective shows us the path to the future, especially nowadays. Today we feel more obligated than ever to sustainability. Increasingly in recent decades, we have kept an eye on the environment, the consumption of energy and raw materials. Even in a globalised world, each person can make a contribution without foregoing pleasure and joy in life. Thus we will enter the next year full of optimism and pursue the task we have set ourselves: We want to please our guests in a nice piece of Austria!

With a hearty "Grüß Gott",
Your host, Helmut Peter, senior landlord

Experience Traditions Up Close

These four happen only once a year: The Corpus Christi procession with its festively decorated boats on Lake Hallstatt, the Narcissus Festival on Lake Grundl, the Pasture Drive Festival in October in the middle of St. Wolfgang and "Whistler's Day" on 15 August, held in a place in the Salzkammergut that is kept a secret right up until the end. Four wonderful opportunities to experience Salzkammergut traditions up close. Thus, for example, during the Corpus Christi procession on 23 June, the participants ride in artistically decorated boats to the middle of the lake after celebrating mass in the church, where the deacon grants the numerous fully occupied "ferries" his blessing. In total, there are approximately 40 decorated boats underway on the lake each year. The most spectacular are the so-called "flat ones", long wooden boats similar to Venetian gondolas. Onlookers can ride one of the three tour boats or go out onto the water on a decorated electric boat – Gabi at our information point will be glad to help you with your planning!

Preferred Guests have it Good

We'll soon be there. The Rössl preferred guest card is born, the finishing touches will be added soon. At the end of the third stay at the Weisses Rössl, it is issued to our guests at the reception and entitles them to many advantages: in 2011, there will be four opportunities for preferred guests to book ALL room categories at the same price; naturally this also applies to our suites. So it pays to be quick!

The upcoming four events are: "Palm Time", "St. Martin's Day", "Gourmet Autumn" and "Post-Carnival". A highlight will be the gourmet dinner at each event created by our top chef Peter Dengg appropriate for the season in question!

It's on Tap: Rössl-Peterbräu Beer

Peterbräu – what else should it be called, the golden drink that Stefan Peter once brewed where the Weisses Rössl stands today. Thousands of thirsty pilgrims once promised easy sales. In the end, the descendants of the brew master, who emigrated from Bavaria to St. Wolfgang exactly 300 years ago, had to stop production due to the overwhelming competition from the Salzburg breweries. In cooperation with the Salzburg private brewery Trummer, we have resurrected Peterbräu in its anniversary year 2011. The anniversary beer will be on tap just in time for the start of the season at the market festival. It is a cellar-darkened Märzen beer, an exceptionally drinkable, strong, typical Austrian beer speciality. During the brewing process, our brew master places special value on classic, open fermentation with home-grown yeast and on the long storage period. A full-bodied, strong bouquet, paired with a spicy, slightly caramel-like note!

Spring at last!

Springtime is Remodelling Time or “March Makes Everything New”

New from 8 April: The lake bridge

Preparations for the short period when the Weisses Rössl is closed have been ongoing for many weeks and months. On the Monday after the closing, the first workers stormed the building at 7:00 am. There is something to improve and to repair in every nook and cranny. The working days often last well into the night and include Saturdays. After the much-too-short fortnight, the construction sites and all repair work must be completed.

What was on the programme this year for the time in “dry dock”? An attraction will be added to our spa in the lake: in the future, two floating bathing platforms will connect the lake pool and the whirlpool area. Via the so-called lake bridge, it will now be possible to move between the two heated pools across the water. And the new sunbathing areas with an unimpeded view of the lake and the mountains will delight our bathing guests!

Curious guests may be wondering what is planned for the new lake area between the hotel and the new bathing platform. Well, we have some plans up our sleeves, but we are not able or allowed to reveal them yet ... so in the meantime, this part will be left to our guests' imagination.

A Fresh Shine for the Holiday Flats

The holiday flats in the residence on the lake were subjected to a generous renovation while the hotel was closed, and we look forward to receiving our guests' feedback. As usual, the 300 sq. m. bathing meadow near the building invites guests to sunbathe and swim. Directly adjacent is a small summer bar. Sports enthusiasts come here directly after waterskiing and diving to enjoy some refreshments. The boat rental is also just a few steps away. After the renovation of the flats in the Belvedere Residence over the past year, there are now eleven flats of various sizes and levels of furnishing. What all eleven units share is the gorgeous view of the lake. In the “Wiesler Horn” flat, you can even enjoy the view directly from the whirlpool tub! All holiday flat guests can use the 1500 sq. m. spa area in the hotel free of charge; in the summer months of July and August, a Rössl sailor chauffeurs our guests staying in the lakeside residence directly to the hotel and back between 10:00 am and 6:00 pm.

Peaceful Wellness, Market Festival & Narcissus Magnificence, (E) Biking & Hiking

This year, Easter Sunday is not until 24 April. Meaning that all eagerly awaited holidays tumble out of the merry month of May and into June. This makes May a peaceful wellness month entirely devoid of holiday hustle and bustle! Summery temperatures are not a rarity during this time, and experience has shown that the first swimmers venture into the lake in May.

New this year is the market festival in the three Lake Wolfgang towns of Strobl, St. Gilgen and St. Wolfgang on Saturday 30 April and Sunday 1 May. At the many stands, finger food delicacies from the Salzkammergut entice. You can get from one place to the other with the boat. Or you can hike – the area around Lake Wolfgang is among the most popular hiking regions in Austria. Whether on mystic pilgrim's paths, rustic trails way up on the surrounding mountains or cosily on informative themed paths around the lake – the "menu" for hikers is extensive!

Talking of lake hiking: on nearby Lake Grundl, there is a unique spectacle in May. White carpets of blossoms spread out on the meadows all around Lake Altau. A captivating fragrance wafts through the spring air. The time of the Narcissus Festival in the Ausseerland has come. From 2 to 5 June, everything revolves around these white blossoms! The highlight: during the boat parade in the middle of the lake, imaginative figures made from thousands of narcissus blooms are presented! In our opinion, the period from April to June is the ideal time for bicycling. Whether a trekking bike, electric bike or mountain bike – we have greatly expanded our bicycle inventory for 2011 and would like to describe two popular trips here in brief:

Hallstatt tour: Take the shuttle bus to the UNESCO world cultural site Hallstatt. From there, cycle for 46.7 km along the beautiful east shore drive of Lake Hallstatt via Obertraun, through Bad Ischl and through Lake Wolfgang Valley back to St. Wolfgang.

Hallein & Salzburg tour: Take the shuttle bus into the picturesque Faistenau to the 1000 year-old linden. From there, make your way through the Strubklamm to Lake Wiestal, continue to Hallein, and from there down the Salzach River until you reach Salzburg (40.5 km). For fit mountain bikers, we recommend the tour around the Schafberg, a sporty challenge in a dreamy landscape!

Mr. Haberl will also be glad to put together a tailor-made tour for you:

Summer Time

Bathing in drinking water

We mention water and feeling good in a single breath. Why? While swimming, you feel deliciously light, almost weightless. And what could be nicer on a hot summer day than to cool off in a lake with drinking water? In a survey of 600 holiday guests, Lake Wolfgang was named Europe's second most popular bathing lake after Lake Garda in Italy, due not least to its high degree of purity and beauty. Moreover, centuries ago, pilgrims took the healing spring water from the Falkenstein, which still feeds Lake Wolfgang today, home with them and preserved it in the famous "Wolfgangiflascherl" ("little Wolfgang's bottle"). In today's blistering summer heat, however, we would sooner recommend a cold beer...

The possibilities available to our guests in the summer are nearly unlimited. Electric boats and paddle boats are available on the bathing terrace every day, water skiers are picked up directly from the hotel, the lake is always just a skip and a jump away. And for anyone who occasionally finds the lake too cool, there is the difficult choice between 30°C in the lake pool and 37°C in the whirlpool.

Beauty: Bestsellers & New Trends!

Spa director Ilse Eisl on the new beauty trends in the Rössl Spa: "As a good part of Austria, we naturally concentrate on regional products and applications. " Alpine wellness offers a wide selection of massages, baths and packs, always accompanied by the Austrian natural product line Alpienne. For cosmetics, we rely on our long-time partner Reviderm, which in addition to the 2 proven care series "Cellucur" and "skintelligence" has now launched a third, luxurious high-performance care line on the market: Premium Skindesign 4D. This product line combines top level research with pure luxury to effectively combat saccharification and free radicals, the main factors of ageing. Each Premium Skindesign treatment is all about individuality: after the skin analysis, a personalised essence is composed for each individual treated and is matched precisely to the needs of that person's skin. Spa director Ilse Eisl says, "Many of our guests enjoy a leisurely discussion of solutions specifically for their skin type. Many even use the products selected at home and order them in the online shop."

Try-out Diving Course with Alex

Alexander Berner is not just a state-certified and authorised diving instructor, but also an especially hearty and expert host. Together with his wife Iris, he has operated the diving station since 2007. Success was not a long time coming; in particular, the special attraction of fresh water diving has got around and preconceptions have been banished. "Dark, cold and poor vision"; sceptical divers often describe lakes, rivers and streams with these attributes. Yet diving in the fresh water of Lake Wolfgang offers more than many people might think. The waters from which we live and where we spend our free time show and tell us about secret landscapes, foreign life forms and fascinating stories. In particular, the bizarre underwater landscape of the Falkenstein wall has thrilled many diving fans.

Whether you are a pro or a beginner, Alex will be glad to make individual suggestions for diving expeditions. From the children's diving course to the underwater scooter tour, almost anything is possible! Thanks to the new diving school catamaran (see foto below), it is now possible to explore even the furthest corners of Lake Wolfgang. The diving school is right next to the waterskiing school on the lake-side promenade of St. Wolfgang. In July and August, Rössl guests can be shuttled to the diving school by boat free of charge. Or you can be picked up by the diving catamaran directly from the Rössl bathing station. Alex Berner will be glad to provide you with additional information: +43 (0)650 6556566 or send an e-mail to: office@tauchstation.at

"The White Horse Inn" at the Lehár Festival

On 16 July, the spruced-up "White Horse Inn" will grace the stage of the Kurhaus Saal in Bad Ischl – as a new production by director Michael Lackner to celebrate the 50th anniversary of the Lehár Festival. This is the charming imperial city where Franz Lehár wrote his unforgettable works. This revue-operetta greets its audience with wit, charm and a lot of Austrian humour from the golden 1920s to today.

The "White Horse Inn" is the most famous homage to the Salzkammergut. Erik Charell and Benatzky and Co. composed a musical monument with this work. "I just can't look," says the smitten head waiter Leopold when he has to watch how his beloved Josepha Vogelhuber, the boss of the "White Horse Inn" runs after lawyer Dr. Siedler, who in turn is courting Otilie, the daughter of his arch-enemy, factory owner Giesecke. And the handsome Sigismund falls for Klärchen, the daughter of Professor Hinzelmann; they too are guests on Lake Wolfgang. But "in the Salzkammergut, you can easily be happy", and thus at the happy ending, "the whole world is still as blue as the sky" ...

Also on the 2011 programme (from 16 July to 4 September) are Franz Lehár's "Paganini", written for the international star tenor Richard Tauber, as well as three chamber evenings in the Lehár Theatre and the new exhibition "Operetta!" (30 July to 28 October 2011). This art form will be presented from a very short time in the city museum, a mobile pavilion, in the Lehár Museum and in the Trinkhalle.

Delicacies & Culinary Delights in the Autumn

The Rössl wine culinarium

Restaurant chef Thomas Auinger remembers "One of the highlights of the last wine culinarium was surely the appearance of Willi Opitz from Illmitz in Burgenland." Probably because of the history of his "Opitz One", which is considered the best sweet red wine in the world. On the occasion of Bill Clinton's re-election in 1996, Opitz called the White House and suggested that he bring a special edition called "Mr. President" to the office to congratulate Clinton. This actually worked and since then, Bill Clinton has remained loyal to products from the house of Opitz.

This year, as in 2010, the wine culinarium includes the core message "Wine formula 4": 4 Austrian wine experts from 4 vineregions, 4 Rössl sommeliers, 4 courses from Peter Dengg's speciality cuisine, 4 kinds of cheese, followed by a surprise from the pastry chef. And naturally 4 different well-matched wines. The whole thing is spread comfortably over 4 days with a lot of wellness in between.

26 Oct. Austrian sparkling wines/Styria
27 Oct. Rosé wines/Burgenland

28 Oct. Port wines/Lower Austria
29 Oct. Aceto Balsamico/Vienna

A brief overview of the highlights: "Forticus meets Porticus" in the Felsenkeller. Graf Maximilian von Hardegg presents the "successor" to the famous 94 Porticus competing with other wines from Austria and Portugal. Furthermore: Have you tried up to 20 year-old Balsamico as an aperitif? The producers just happen to be state opera tenor Herwig Pecoraro from Klosterneuburg as well as the distillery and vinegar manufactory Gölles in Riegersburg in Styria. Naturally a rosé tasting and Austrian sparkling wine variations will also be included. And professional tips for the correct handling of good wines are provided along the way. As Willi Opitz puts it so appropriately: "Life is (also) too short to drink bad wine".

The third toque

Since the end of last year, we have been allowed to wear a Gault-Millaut toque for the third time: an honour for the entire team and further motivation for the future. Kitchen chef Peter Dengg is already working on innovations for demanding palates – new from the spring is (amongst other things) boiled veal haunch combined with a sheatfish filet from Lake Wolfgang and complemented by root vegetables and horseradish cream.

Naturally, trout from Lake Wolfgang must also be on the menu, as must fine coregonus (a fish in the salmon family) and char, for which the our fisherman Nikolaus Höplinger (see picture above) fishes along with his seaworthy dog only at very specific times of year.

Wine culinarium: 26 to 30 October 2011

- Daily Rössl breakfast experience
- Welcome gift in your room
- Daily wine-tasting in the Felsenkeller with the sommeliers

Pilgrimage with Rössl Senior Landlord Helmut Peter

"I'm off then!" The more than three million copies of Hape Kerkeling's cult book sold speak for themselves. The fascination with pilgrimages continues to grow. The reason doesn't matter at all. The cult book author was driven to go on one by a health setback. Whether you have a spiritual background or simply enjoy moving, the main thing is that you go. And it doesn't necessarily have to be Santiago de Compostela.

Together with other pilgrim strongholds such as Rome and Santiago de Compostela, St. Wolfgang was amongst the most important pilgrimage destinations in Europe for several centuries. Twenty to sixty thousand pilgrims followed the tracks of St. Wolfgang to his hallowed place in the Pilgrimage Church.

Today, the VIA NOVA from Regensburg to St. Wolfgang is one of the best-known European pilgrimage routes: 300 km long, well-marked and manageable in ten days for the practised. This year, the Rössl's senior landlord will hike a section of the route with guests who are so inclined in three days, from 20-23 October 2011. On the first stage, the Salzburg lake plateau shows its most beautiful side. In approximately 6 hours, the pilgrims will follow hiking and freight paths from Mattsee across Lake Waller and Lake Zeller to Mondsee, from where our taxi will take the tired pilgrims to the Weisses Rössl. The next morning, the route continues from the old cloister church in Mondsee along the imposing Drachenwand, then towards Schafberg along the shore of Lake Mondsee. Over the Scharfling Pass, you will reach the famous Gut Aich Monastery near St. Gilgen. The route then continues directly along the shore of Lake Wolfgang to Fürberg, where a beautiful guesthouse on the lake invites you in. Exhausted pilgrims take the boat to St. Wolfgang; anyone who still has the strength can take on the last incline up to the Falkenstein Pass! The little church of St. Wolfgang was built there on an old heathen cult site. Inside the chapel is the so-called "crawl-through stone", a sacred stone which was "built over" with the small church in the 17th century. The „crawl-through-stone" remains unchanged today: one crawls, or in common parlance, "slips" through a narrow crevice, in the hope of spiritual cleansing, fertility or the healing of illnesses. Hikers and pilgrims can quench their thirst at the nearby mineral spring. Now it's just one hour to the destination, after 25 km and approximately 6 hours: the Pilgrimage Church of St. Wolfgang, only a few steps away from the Weisses Rössl!

Thursday, 20 October: arrival at the Hotel Seewirt in Mattsee in the late afternoon, dinner and overnight stay

Friday, 21 October: early breakfast, then hike from Mattsee across Lake Waller and Lake Zeller to Mondsee, transfer to St. Wolfgang to the Weisses Rössl, dinner at the Weisses Rössl

Saturday, 22 October: early breakfast, then transfer to Mondsee and hike via Scharfling and the Falkenstein to St. Wolfgang, dinner at the Weisses Rössl

Sunday, 23 October: sleep in, Sunday breakfast with sparkling wine and piano music in the Weisses Rössl, church tour with "old hotelier" Helmut Peter, departure

News from the Rössl and Lake Wolfgang

2012: 100th Birthday!

100 years! This is unimaginably old for Fabienne, Celina and Elodie; the age of all 3 Rössl daughters combined is just 18 years! In 2012 it will be exactly 100 years since Johann Paul Peter, the descendent of the Peter family, resident since 1711, bought the Weisses Rössl. He was thus the founder of the family-owned company Weisses Rössl, which is in its 5th generation today! Naturally, we have thought up something really special for the anniversary year, but we won't tell you what it is just yet! However, the preparations are already in high gear...

Gundi Peter retires

Love brought her to Lake Wolfgang! Gundelinde Peter and her husband Helmut took over the role of Rössl hosts in 1973, when they were just married. After Hermine, Margarethe and Grete Peter, Gundelinde was the fourth Rössl hostess in the Peter family. For 37 years, she left her mark on the loving planning, design and furnishing of the hotel! Since 1 January 2011, she has been spending a lot of time with her 5 granddaughters and helping her daughter Gudrun, who as the new Rössl hostess, manages the hotel with her husband Oliver Trutmann-Peter. We thank her for her great commitment and wish her joy and pleasure in her retirement!

Rössl on your smartphone

Who hasn't experienced this? You are proudly using your brand-new smartphone to surf the internet and you finally land on the page you were looking for. The detailed content is nice, but it takes forever to load and reading it on the small display is not very pleasant either. The solution: mobile versions of the home pages. Short and to the point, clear and easy to navigate. Anyone surfing on their mobile phone who visits the Rössl home page will automatically land on the mobile phone-compatible variant or optionally on the normal version. Happy surfing!

And the winner is...

Desiree Fischer on her big day at the state trainee competition for Upper Austria: "My tasks were quite varied, e.g. perfect table setting for the lunch service, creation of a flower arrangement, the arrangement of a cheese platter and preparation of an Irish coffee and a milkshake. At lunch we opened a bottle of wine in front of the guests, served the food, and filleted a fish according to the rules of the art; naturally, the examiners were watching everything we did! The title "Best trainee" in the category "Restaurant professional" means I am now allowed to participate in the Austrian trainee competition!"

Welcome Erik & Lara

As if it had been agreed upon – the two curious faces in the picture to the left came into the world just a few days apart in the autumn. Erik is the offspring of Stephanie and Michael, both longstanding Rössl employees and well-known to our guests. Lara enlarges the family of Rössl receptionist Maria. Both babies regularly visit the hotel and bring it some life! We are looking forward to their mothers' return after their maternity leave!
